DETAILED ACTIONSpecification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means", "said," and "comprising" should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of legal phraseology [note the word "comprising" in line 1. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors. For example only, regarding claim 1, the phrase "or the like" in line 4 renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

With respect to claim 1: a broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 4 recites the broad recitation comminuting apparatus, and the claim also especially a document shredder, which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation. This terminology is repeated throughout the claims. Additionally, regarding "and/or" in line 6, it makes the claim language confusing since it is not clear whether the phrase is intended to encompass pivotally and movably , pivotally or movably or some other limitation.

Art Unit: 3725

With respect to claims 4-7: the phrase "the rotational axis of the flap" is vague since in claim one which claims 4-7 depend on, no rotational axis may be encompassed therein [note the phrase "and/or"].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Hellyer (2,899,140) or Ganzhorn (1,066,722) or GB 2171029 or JP 406000405.

The claims are interpreted as best understood by the examiner. The claims are interpreted as requiring a comminuting apparatus comprising an approximately funnel-shaped feeding area for the material that is to be comminuted, wherein a flap located in the feeding area constricts the feeding area to a narrow feeding path and extends across the width thereof is pivotally or movably mounted in the feeding area (see the Figs). Either Hellyer or Ganzhorn or GB 2171029 or JP 406000405 is considered to clearly show a device having the structural elements of the claims that can be understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3725

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 7-11 are rejected as best understood under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Hellyer or Ganzhorn or GB 2171029 or JP 406000405.

The limitations of these claims would have been obvious modifications by one skilled in the art once the basic apparatus was known. For example the use switch to turn on/off the drive mechanism is well known in the art and of no patentable merit.
